

Educational Opportunities for Adults

take place at the museum with classes, craft-workshops, speakers and off the museum grounds in places of local historic interest. These hikers are taking advantage of beautiful autumn weather to retrace the ancient road chopped through the wilderness by Timothy Hinman. Begun in 1791 it runs from Greensboro to Derby through Brownington Historic District and our Museum grounds.

Youth Education Programs

Year round history education for students and families with school age children is offered at the Museum. Focusing on the pre-civil war period, and Alexander Twilight's time, lively, hands on programs introduce students to the life and culture of early Vermont.
